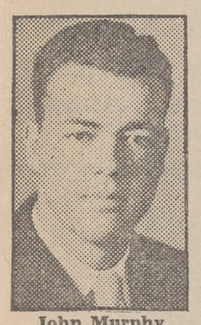
SENIOR INFORMAL IS BANNED BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATION

Chancellor's Council Bars Campus Dances Because of Lack of Facilities

A proposed senior informal dance in Madigan gymnasium was yesterday evtoed by the Chancellor, who was presented with a petition for the dance by Senior President Jack Murphy.



John Murphy

The purpose of the dance was to raise funds for the traditional senior gift which is annually presented to the College by graduating classes. In view of the fact that their petition for the informal was turned down, it now appears that the senior class will be unable to make the gift.

St. Patrick's night, Friday, March 17, was the tentative date set for the event by senior classmen, but that date will have to be abandoned. In all probability the next collegiate dance to be held will be the Senior Ball in late April.

It was pointed out that the chancellor's council had gone on record as being opposed to all campus dances, and that the last senior informal held a year ago was the last dance to be held on the campus.

Lack of facilities for a dance in the gymnasium was cited as one of the main reasons for refusing the petition, as well as the distance fromSan Francisco and Oakland.

President Murphy announced that the senior class would not consider raising money by subscription to purchase a senior gift, because of the poor financial condition of the fourth year men.

Staff of Yearbook to Review Work at Meet

There will be a meeting of the Gael staff next Monday at 3 o'clock in the press rooms in Galileo hall. Work on the organizations section of the yearbook will be completed and the literary section will be reviewed. All staff members are urged to be present as the drive for sales will be renewed next week.

Program For Meet Set by Committee

Dance Will Terminate Press Convention

Further plans are being made for the Annual Press Convention which is to be held at Saint Mary's, on Saturday, April 22. At the present time, invitations are being prepared to send to the staffs of the various Catholic High Schools of Northern California.

A tentative program has been prepared by the special committee, which is under the leadership of President George Railton. The committee has suggested that there be a general assembly in the morning, which should be followed by a round-table conference on sports, news, and the arrangement of annuals. Lunch will be served at noon, and the rest of the afternoon will be devoted to special meetings on special topics.

Writers from the leading newspapers in the Eastbay will be present to answer questions for the visiting journalists. The day will terminate with a dance and refreshments, at about 3 p.m.

Student President of Stanford to Speak Here

Bill Corbus, Stanford student body president, will be a visitor to the campus at the next meeting of the A.S.S.M.C., according to an announcement by President Jack Tolan yesterday.

An All-American football player, Corbus is widely known for his capable work as the student executive at the Palo Alto institution.

According to present plans, Corbus will address the assembly in Madigan Gym.

The meeting is tentatively set for the third week of March.

Faculty Member To Direct Cantoria

To Sing at War Memorial Sunday Evening

A group of international choirs have been presenting a series of weekly radio programs, each featuring one of the choral groups. This series now culminates in a grand concert by eleven choral groups at War Memorial Opera House, Sunday evening, February 26. Each choir, performing under its own director, will offer characteristic national and folk music.

Besides being an unusual offering in the presentation of choral singing, the international choirs concert is notable because it marks one of the first cooperative international projects to be promoted in the bay area.

According to Charles W. Chylinski, managing director, it is hoped that as a result of this effort, a permanent alliance of these groups may be formed for the promotion of choral singing, an art heretofore appreciatively recognized only in Europe.

The first group to sing will be the "San Francisco Cantoria," founded and directed by the Reverend Jean Ribeyron of Saint Mary's College faculty, representing the sacred classic polyphony as developed by the great masters of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. The San Francisco Cantoria was founded to promote in the West the choral singing of the "Chanteurs de Saint Gervais" in Paris, to cooperate with the famous European polyphonic societies, to revive in particular the splendid music of the Catholic Church the treasure of which is inexhaustible, but unfortunately remains almost undiscovered.

Constitution To Be Revised And Submitted For Approval

By John Tolan, Jr.

At one of the first meetings of the executive council last semester, a committee was appointed to bring our four-year-old constitution up to date.

With the exception of a few amendments, the constitution has grown obsolete in many sections and is in sad need of revision and re-submission to the student body.

Considerable work was accomplished at the first of the academic year but it became imperative, on account of serious difficulties that only time could dissipate, to halt further revision.

Next Wednesday the executive council will begin consideration of changes recommended by Carroll Coughlan, Arthur D'Arco, and David Hinch, with John Tolan Jr. as advisory chairman of the committee.

At the next student body meeting the constitution will again be submitted to students after a copy and an explanation of the changes have been published in The Collegian. Members may at that time bring up objections or further suggestions.

The purpose of this committee is to revise, not to change the constitution. Any further amendments to the constitution shall not be made at this time although an attempt will be made to organize a section of by-laws.

Students who have any suggestion to make should make them in writing to members of this committee or to their class representative on the executive council.

"Leadership" Is Topic of Air Series

Brother James Makes Debut On Radio Classroom

Brother James, instructor in Education, made his 1933 debut on the "Class-room of the Air" with an inspiring talk entitled "Educational Leadership."

He stressed the importance of higher education and maintained, "That in these times of confusion we need intelligent leaders."

In showing the advance in education in recent years he brought out some interesting statistics. In 1890 over 13 per cent of the people of the United States could not read or write; today we find less than 4 per cent. In 180 only 3 per cent went to college, today over 16 per cent are attending college.

Professor Louis F. LeFevre will be Monday night's speaker on station KYA when he discusses "Modern History" in the fourth of ten scheduled Classroom of the Air broadcasts.

Glowing Tributes Paid to Graduate

Los Angeles Press High in Praise of J. A. Graves

Press and public of Los Angeles joined in glowing tribute to Jackson A. Graves '73, first graduate of Saint Mary's, who died in the south on February 14.

Mr. Graves, who was president of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Los Angeles, was termed by the Los Angeles Times as "One of the most colorful and influential men on the Pacific Coast, affectionately known as the 'Grand Old Man' of Los Angeles banking and legal circles."

A pioneer lawyer and banker, he was one of the organizers of the Los Angeles Bar Association. He also organized the Board of Trade of that city and served for many years as the president of the Los Angeles Clearing House Association.

Executive Council Fails To Meet During Week

Owing to the holiday which falls upon the day of their regular meeting, the ex council did not meet this week.

Investigation of the missing crockery which was brought out at the last meeting of the council is still going on. To date there has been no returns reported on the search.

Members of the body are reminded of the next meeting which will be held Wednesday, March 1, in room 113 in Dante Hall at 12:25.

RECORDER'S OFFICE

Examinations for the first quarter will begin on March 6, which is one week from next Monday. The complete schedule is to be found on page 5.

Archbishop To Be Present At K.C. State Convention Here

Assurance of the appearance of Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco at the Knights of Columbus State Convention on May 14, 15 and 16 was received by the local council during the past week. His Grace will speak at the patriotic exercises on May 14, in addition to county government officials, and will officiate at Solemn Benediction on the evening of the same day.

Another recent development was the appointment of Marvin Miller as chairman of the Columbian Squires Field Day ,to consist of track and field events, and Mr. Darnell of Vallejo Council to take charge of the investiture of the Columbian Squires in de la Salle Hall lounge on Sunday, May 14.

Chamber of Commerce Cooperates

The following letter was received by Lecturer Tim Canty several days ago:

February 20, 1933.

Mr. Timothy Canty,
Saint Mary's College, Calif.
My Dear Mr. Canty:

At a Board of Directors meeting of this Chamber of Commerce held in Walnut Creek last night it was voted upon unanimously to extend to Saint Mary's our whole-hearted support in helping entertain the visiting members of the California State Convention of the Knights of Columbus.

It was suggested that we take the visiting delegation to the top of Mt. Diablo by machines and this met with hearty accord. If time permits for this side trip beginning with an easy jaunt through the beautiful San Ramon Valley with its walnut groves, almonds in flower at that time, slowly to the summit where 35 counties of the State may be seen on a clear day, I am sure it will be an outing none of the visiting members will forget in a long time.

We stand ready to lend assistance in any manner you see fit. Do not fail to call upon us if the opportunity permits.

Cordially yours for a successful convention,
Great San Ramon Valley Chamber of Commerce, Ltd.,
(Signed) HUGH D. BENNETT,
Secretary-Manager.

California Economist To Address Association

At an undetermined date within the next fortnight, Dr. Felix Flugel, head of the department of economics at the University of California, will address the members of the local Economics Association.

Mr. Foran is endeavoring to set a definite date for the lecture, which is expected to be on ecnoomic history. The original appearance scheduled for last week was unavoidably postponed.

Varsity Gridiron Men Undergo Operations

Allen Nichelini, varsity halfback, now convalescing in the College infirmary, had no sooner left Providence Hospital in Oakland, when another football player prepared to take his place.

Edward Duncan, fullback, has been ordered by Dr. E. R. Guinan to enter Providence Hospital Monday morning for an appendicitis operation. Duncan has been ailing for some time and will probably miss spring practice as a result of the operation.

Nichelini entered the hospital to repair an injured knee cap and at the same time underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils.

Blind Student Led To Class by Dog

Specially Trained Animal Guides Trainer

A German shepherd dog now leads Dan Hurley, blind student and freshman football trainer daily from his Berkeley home to his classes on the Moraga campus.

The dog is of the "Seeing Eye" group of trained dogs that are now undergoing instruction with their masters in Berkeley.

According to a recent report, 8 dogs have been brought from the headquarters of the "Seeing Eye" Association in Morristown, New Jersey, and will serve as guides for blind in the East Bay district.

The dogs are trained by William Debetaz, who directs the instruction of the dogs with their blind masters. Training of dogs begins in Switzerland, where the dogs are bred, at the age of 14 months. The first two months are spent in training the dogs for obedience and in the routine of leading. The last month is spent in training the dog in traffic with its master.

Daily the intelligent shepherd dog leads Dan Hurley on street cars and trains 16 miles to the College. The dog is at his side at all times and during classes lies quietly on the floor. During sleeping hours, the dog sleeps near its master and awakens him in the morning with sharp strokes of the paw.

Confirmation to Be Administered Monday

With customary ceremony, the Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered to 35 students in the chapel at 11 o'clock Monday by Archbishop John J. Mitty.

The entire student body will be present at the ceremonies, following roll call in religion classes. In honor of the occasion and out of respect to the Most Reverend Archbishop, students are requested to discard customary campus attire and be neatly dressed.

The program for the ceremonies is under the direction of Father Benjamin Bowling, student chaplain, who announces that the Student Brothers' Choir, directed by Father John Ribeyron and Brother Julian will provide the sacred music for the occasion.

Freshman Debaters to Meet U. C. on March 14

Freshman forensic activities have been halted temporarily on account of the approaching quarterly examinations.

Immediately after these mid-semester reviews, the frosh will engage in a discussion of the Manchurian question with the University of California. The meeting will be held at Berkeley on March 14.

Following this contest very closely will be return meetings with the freshman groups of Stanford University and the University of Santa Clara.

Saint Mary's first year debaters will probably meet the Stanford yearlings on March 16. If this date should prove unsatisfactory, the contest will be moved up into April, because the quarter final examinations occur at the peninsula university during the end of March.

LOCALS ENCOUNTER RIVALS FROM UTAH FRIDAY IN DEBATE

Discussion Will Be Held on Lounge Platform in Afternoon

On next Friday afternoon in De la Salle hall lounge, a forensic team from Utaht State Agricultural College will meet a campus squad on the Pi Kappa Delta proposition which concerns the cancellation of the inter-allied war debts.

The meeting will be a decision affair.

While in this vicinity, the debaters from Logan, Utah, are to engage in discussions on the same topic with Stanford University, University of San Francisco, and San Jose State Teachers.

This is not the first appearance of the Utah Aggies' forensic representatives on the local platform. Two years ago they clashed with Saint Mary's debaters here.

David Taylor, John Kiernan and Henry Floyd will form the squad for the campus forensic society.

Philhistorians Tilt

"Resolved: That the Japanese action in Manchuria is justifiable" was the subject of an encounter between the House of Philhistorians of Santa Clara University and Saint Mary's. The affair took place last Tuesday evening.

Noel Sherry, Kelly Dowd, and Cranson Hopkins argued on the affirmative side for the campus debaters.

Their rivals from the House were Frank O'Brien, R. Schmidt, and Neil Clark. No decision was rendered.

Thomas Twomey, debate manager, presided. Before the engagement the two squads had dinner together in the guest dining room.

Intersectional Meets Planned

The clash with the representatives from Utah State will complete forensic activities for the current quarter. However, after mid-semester examinations, the honor society, which aids in handling these events, plans to sponsor many more forensic contests.

A.P.G.U. Organized Twenty-five Years

Society Noted As Sponsor of Cultural Events

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series on the history and functions of campus organizations.

About twenty-five years ago, the Alpha Pi Gamma Upsilon, the active literary society on the campus, was instituted under Brother Joseph, former Provincial of the Christian Brothers on the Pacific Coast.

Carroll Coughlan

From its inception, the society has been limited to students with literary interests. Under this type of members it has flourished as one of the feature clubs of the campus, and with it the maxim that quality is much better than quantity likewise has been preserved.

In the days of old the society constantly was to be found sponsoring debates, dramatic presentations of lectures. In 1927, for example, the presentation of "Everyman" was greeted with the approval of all who witnessed it.

Again, in 1927, the society sponsored the lecture by Brother Leo on the subject, "Shaw, Wells and Belloc," which was delivered in the Colonial ballroom of the Hotel Saint Francis in San Francisco. Sponsoring affairs of this nature have made the A.P.G.U. the traditional club that it is today.

During the past year the club has

Wednesday, May 3 — Annual meeting and dinner of Alumni Association, San Francisco. Classes of '73, '83 and '33 guests of honor.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR HOMECOMING, MARCH 5

The final meeting of the Homecoming Day committee was held in San Francisco last Monday evening with Chairman John W. Collins '20, presiding. At the meeting final plans for the day were made. It was felt that a special effort should be made to secure even a larger attendance than that of last year and to this end it was suggested that alumni who are planning to attend Homecoming Day on March 5 would "talk up" the event to those alumni who are uncertain about coming.

The program which was outlined in the last week's edition of The Collegian, is a well-rounded one and one that will keep the alumni interested from 9:10 in the morning, which is the time set for the annual communion in the chapel until about 9:30 in the evening, which is about the hour that will mark the conclusion of the Homecoming dinner.

Eugene Riordan '10 will preside at the communion breakfast at 10 o'clock. William R. Lowery '11 will preside at the educational conference at 11 o'clock. A band concert is scheduled for 1 p.m., with the punting contest at 2 o'clock.

Jimmy Roberts '25 and Jack Bill '29 are in charge of the alumni team which will meet the varsity at 2:30.

At 5 p.m. in Dante Hall, Dr. Fred T. West '14, alumni president, will preside at the Alumni Review, at which time the latest facts about the College will be set forth. Brother Leo is the featured speaker on this program. Benediction will follow at 6 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m., the Homecoming Day dinner will be held in the College dining room, with John W. Collins '20 as toastmaster. Speakers at the dinner will be William Hobin '31, Sylvester Andriano '11 and Brother Jasper.

STOCKTON UNIT

Under the direction of Jack O'Keefe '29, newly elected president of Stockton unit, luncheons are being held under the auspices of the unit every month in the city of Stockton. It is planned to have similar luncheons at Lodi and at Jackson, cities which also fall within the jurisdiction of Stockton unit. Past President Bolling Chinn and William Hobin are aiding O'Keefe in the work of arranging for the luncheons.

According to Hobin, it is planned to have a large delegation from the unit in attendance at Homecoming Day.

CLASS OF '29

Under the direction of Malcolm "Ike" Frankian '29, plans have been made for a reunion of the class of '29 at Richard Cafe in Oakland on this Sunday evening, February 26. Price of the dinner is 50 cents.

Members of the class of '29 who are planning to attend the reunion are asked to notify Frankian at HUmboldt 3927. His address is 420 Hawthorne Street, Oakland. Jack Bill is aiding Frankian in plans for the reunion.

Insurance Man Speaks to Seniors

"Trust Banking" Discussed by Caxton Rhodes

The current series of Senior Transition talks added another interesting episode last Friday morning, when Richard D. Blake, a San Francisco insurance man and director of the Young Mens' Institute discussed the general topic of "Insurance" before the seniors.

Blake introduced a number of statistical reports of the State of California concerning the enormous insurance investments. He segregated the field into life, fire, marine and casualty insurance and spent some time in discussing each form.

Blake stressed the importance of insurance in the present era, its connection with huge catastrophes, wars and other situations of this sort where insurance is implicated in billions of dollars. His discussion concluded the sixth of the 1933 transition talks.

This morning Caxton P. Rhodes, an official in the Bank of America, delivered a talk on "Trust Banking." It was Mr. Rhodes' third appearance in transition talks.

Senior Sketches

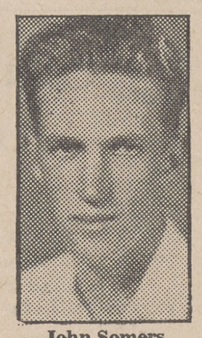
Favorite expressions? Beat this one if you can.

"It's a dilly." The author? John Somers, also known to his intimate friends as "Spook," utters these words habitually.



John Somers

John is majoring in philosophy, his thesis being "Development of Aristotle's Ethics and the System of St. Thomas."

After he graduates he intends to go East to continue his studies at Marquette University where he will take a course in law.

Somers may appear to be the most taciturn and retiring student at Saint Mary's, yet he has had a multitude of activities crammed into his life at college.

He came here from Fortuna Union High in Humboldt County, and soon associated himself with The Collegian.

Three years' work on the campus weekly led to the editorship of the 1932 Gael year book. Other journalistic efforts found him as a member of the Publications committee.

"Spook" is the vice-president of Alpha Pi Gamma Upsilon and the president of the Humboldt-Del Norte student association. He has been a varsity debater for two years.

If you want to find this young gentleman between 8 and 10 p.m. on week-day evenings, look in the stacks in the library. Somers claims that he knows more about the book collections than any one else excepting Brother Clement, the librarian.

Do you know that he classified and card-indexed all these for the past twenty years?

When questioned concerning the local improvements that he would like to see some day, John replied, "There should be more self-government by the students. At present it is merely a name."

Being a child of the great outdoors, his hobbies are hunting, fishing and timber cruising.

ASH WEDNESDAY

Mass at 7 o'clock Wednesday will begin the season of Lent at Saint Mary's.

At noon Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be held in the chapel followed by the distribution of the Blessed Ashes at 12:20 noon.

ILLUSION:

Josie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladder! A phenomenal leap for a woman . . . or a man!

EXPLANATION:

Josie didn't jump . . . she was sprung! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Josie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobaccos used.

Cheap, raw tobaccos can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.

Collegian Sports

BASEBALL: PHOENIX VS. STANFORD HERE WEDNESDAY AT 3

Gael Gossip

By HAVELOCK HUNTER

The most dangerous school sport, as shown by a preliminary insurance survey made by Professor Frank S. Lloyd of N.Y.U., is touch football.

When baseball season rolls around it usually calls for an explanation of the Saint Mary's team name, Phoenix. Phoenix is a bird famed in fable and held sacred by the Egyptians. It was supposed to have red and golden plumago and to resemble our eagle in size and form, and said to have come to Egypt every five hundred years from Arabia.

Of the many fanciful tales related of the Phoenix perhaps the best known is that when it was about to die, at the age of about 500, the bird built itself a nest of herbs, lighted it by fanning with its golden wings, and died upon it. From the ashes a worm was generated whence grew the young phoenix.

Pliny declared it to have been the belief that there was but one phoenix on the earth at a time and when it died upon the pyre it had erected, the worm developed from the ashes became in its turn the only representative of the species.

The modern use of the word is based upon these old legends, as when new fire is instilled into the Saint Mary's nine, it is said to "rise phoenix-like from the ashes."

Santa Clara is going to play her baseball games as per schedule but will not have any standing in the Intercollegiate league. The Broncos have agreed to play out the local games arranged under the C.I.B.A. auspices, but will not travel to Los Angeles. The same is true of U.C.L.A.; so that wins and losses of these two teams will have no bearing on the race between the other members of the league, Saint Mary's, California, Southern California, and Stanford.

Santo (Greta) Garbo, who recently had his pate shaved, is getting his hair back at the rate of an eighth of an inch a week. Soon he will be past the stage of receiving razzberries from his colleagues.

Tomorrow, weather permitting, the Gael nine will meet California on the Bear's new home field. One good feature is that there will not be any short right field fence as last year in the California Memorial Stadium, where a fly over the barrier would warrant two bases. The Bears seemed to be clever in performing that feat.

This will be the opener in the league for the Golden Bear, and Coach Clint Evans has groomed his charges for the fray after the Washington's birthday game with Santa Clara. The California coach believes the shift of Captain George Wolfman from the catcher's position to first base has materially strengthened the Bear infield defensively. The change, made possible by the return to active duty of Danny Johnson, regular catcher, deprives the lineup of a good hitter in Jim Grilk, erstwhile first baseman, but Wolfman's hitting has improved in the last two games, offsetting this deficiency. The Berkeleyans have shown marked improvement in hitting in the last two games.

It's lucky that that 19-0 defeat at the hands of Stanford came so early in the season for Saint Mary's. If any member of the team possessed a swellhead before the trouncing, there is little evidence of it now. Resolutions have been made anew and California is going to see a new outfit turn out against them tomorrow.

Proof of the confidence laid in the Phoenix is a $2.50 bet made with a Stanfordite after the game by a certain Gael follower who is of the firm belief that Saint Mary's will win the conference.

Around the ball park . . . Charley Hart is the new pitching sensation for the California freshmen . . . Ed Stetson, towering moundsman, has a dandy pea ball . . .

CAGERS BREAK EVEN WITH NEVADANS IN ANNUAL SERIES

Invaders Drop First Match in Reno; Come Back Strong to Take Second

Tallying three times in the final minute the Nevada Wolfpack gave the Gaels a 44-39 drubbing at Reno last Friday in the first game of their series.

The Nevadans employed a fast break throughout the game with Captain Bledsoe leading the attack. Bledsoe proved his right to the name "Deadeye Dan" by talling 18 markers for high point honors.

Meade of the Gaels played a bang-up floor game, incidentally scoring 11 points. Roy Lazerri, Gael center, left the game on four personals but not until he had scored three buckets. O'Donnell replacing Lang at guard, fitted into the position nicely and turned in a good game.

Half time score favored Nevada at 25-15. Gould, at center for the Nevadans, scored the bucket that put the Wolves out in front with less than a minute to go.

Using a fast break continually the Galloping Gaels defeated the Nevada Wolves by a 44-36 score in the second game of their series played last Saturday at Reno.

Meade was the shining light of the Gaels' attack, besides scoring 20 points —annexing high point honors—he was a great cog in a revamped Gael defense. Lang, though nursing a poor ankle, played a good game for the Moragans.

Meade scored 31 points in the two games, almost half the total Gael score. O'Donnell played at guard, breaking up the Wolfpack's offensive threats continually.

Gould led the Nevadans with 10 digits and showed up well on floor play, his height proving a valuable asset in gaining possession of the ball. Curran, Nevada guard, was injured and had to be carried from the floor.

Harold Johnson and Wayne Pendleton, playing their last game for the Red and Blue, turned in stellar performances.

Yearling Nine to Take On Cubs Tuesday

In an early season "natural," a promising Gael Frosh nine meets the California yearlings, Tuesday afternoon at Phoenix field.

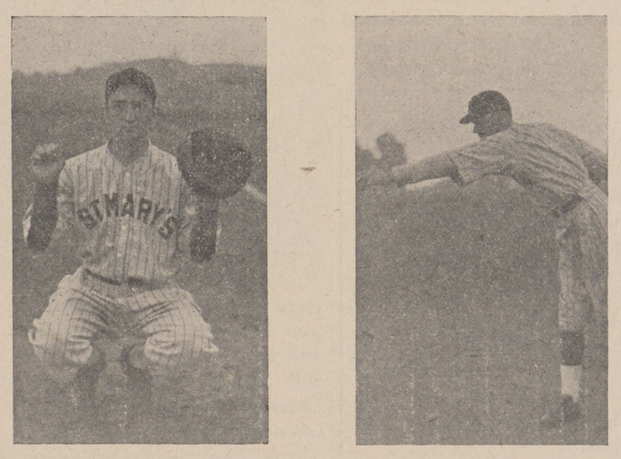
The Gaelets have played but one team, Alameda High, who were defeated by a 5-2 score. Indications from the Alameda game infer that Don Raffanti and Chris Revelli will hurl a major part of the frosh contest. A few scattered hits were gained off both pitchers. Owens and Page performed capably behind the plate, whipping the pellet around with accuracy. An infield composed of Magrini, Hanna, Marinovich and Leary completed several sparkling double plays. Mattos, Yeserski, Souza and Rovia are leading the contenders for outfield berths.

In Tuesday's game Kingman is expected to open with Daoust on the mound with Johnny Lilly receiving. However, Brown or Beebe may start with Al Thorell doing the catching.

Mermen Prepare for Match With Y.M.C.A.

Coach Fletcher has announced that swimming and water polo practice will get under way next week in the campus pool. The tank has been filled with water from the lake and at present the process of filtering is taking place. The next water polo game will be with the San Francisco "Y" on March 11. The College should have a fair representative team with such men as Peri, McCullagh, Walsh, Fischer, Fryer, Dineen, Frick, and Moylan in the lineup.

- - Midget Battery - -



MICKEY McKAY, left, most experienced Gael tosser, and MEL BAREILLES, right, veteran receiver, will most likely see action against the Bears tomorrow when the Phoenix enter their second intercollegiate league game, even though they had trouble with Stanford. Both McKay and Bareilles have had ample experience with the Golden Bears in the past and, although a diminutie pair, should be able to handle the situation, if picked by Guisto for battery work.

Indoor Baseball Games Rescheduled

Because no teams showed up for the indoor baseball series this week, steps were taken last night to set the games up a week. As there will be no contests during examination week, March 6, the series will start next Tuesday between the Seniors and the Juniors. Thursday the Sophomores will take on the Freshmen. Then there will follow a week of inaction between the interclass competition; play to be resumed March 14 and 16.

Following are the games as rescheduled by the committee:

February 28, Tuesday, 2 p.m.—Seniors vs. Juniors.

March 2, Thursday, 2 p.m.—Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

March 14, Tuesday, 2 p.m.—Seniors vs. Sophomores.

March 16, Thursday, 2 p.m.—Juniors vs. Freshmen.

March 21, Tuesday, 2 p.m.—Seniors vs. Freshmen.

March 23, Tuesday, 2 p.m.—Juniors vs. Sophomores.

The disinterest as shown by the student body for the games as previously scheduled, has caused the Intramural Games committee to threaten to abolish the matches if students of their respective classes do not turn out for the games.

All clashes will be held in Madigan Gym and are scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

St. Mary's Cards Game With College of Pacific

Gael Coach Slip Madigan confirmed this week the reports of the scheduled game with College of the Pacific Armistice Day to be played at Stockton. Madigan and Pacific's newly acquired mentor, Alonzo Stagg, former grid coach at Chicago University, have been conferring on the matter of a game between the Gaels and Tigers for some time, since Stagg came to the Coast.

Grid fans are of the opinion that a traditional game can be made of the game between the two colleges.

SPRING PRACTICE

After the examinations, work will start in earnest for the football letter men who turn out for spring practice. Up to the present only the Flying "A"s and the freshmen have been working out on the greensward.

Frosh Nine Win Opener From Alameda High 5-2

The Gaelets won their first game last Saturday morning over Alameda High on the home field by a score of 5 to 2.

The whole infield played a nice consistent game for so early in the season. The best hit of the day was registered by Magrini, who hit a triple to left field.

Raffanti and Revelli had a world of stuff on the ball, and will do much damage to many future opponents' batting averages, if they continue to show it.

The batteries for Saint Mary's were Raffanti and Revelli, pitchers, and Owens and Page, catchers. The batteries for Alameda were Relmstein, pitcher, and Larson, catcher.

HOPE FOR BILLIARD MEETS

Joe Lang, Olympic boxing contender and at present caretaker of the Saint Mary's Billiard room, has expressed hope that enough interest might be raised on the campus to warrant some billiard tournaments in the near future.

STANFORD HANDS PHOENIX WORST DEFEAT OF HISTORY

Gael Nine Make 10 Errors, Indians None in 19-0 Rampage

Taking what was probably the worst beating ever administered to a Saint squad in any form of competition, the Phoenix came out on the short end of a 19 to 0 score against the Stanford Indians at the latters' diamond, Wednesday.

The whole story may be gathered by a glance at the error column, which reads: Stanford 0 errors; Saint Mary's 10 errors. Miscues by the inexperienced infield and four errors by the usually reliable "Blibs" Bareilles (which incidentally were as many errors as he made all last season) kept the pitchers constantly in the hole. Joe Boyd, a newcomer at shortstop, appeared to be the only steadying influence in the infield and came up with several fine stops.

During the course of the slaughter, Coach Gusito used five pitchers, with "Mickey" McKay starting, all to no avail.

Bert Delmas, Stanford shortstop, was outstanding for the opponents, hitting safely five times in as many turns at bat.

Phoenix Lose to Orange Crush 8-4

In a slow ragged seven-inning ball game the Orange Crush nine defeated the Phoenix yesterday, 8-4, when the Cronin All-Stars failed to show up for their scheduled game.

Al Duffy and Walt Vanderbundt with Noel Bonelli behind the plate composed the Phoenix battery, while for the Orange Crush Camphel did the pitching and Brain the receiving.

Three All-Stars, Jimmy Reese, Chick Hafey and Larry Bettencourt, former Gael catcher, were present. Reese pitched the last inning and the Phoenix nicked him for two runs.

The infield played ragged ball and gave Duffy and Vanderbundt poor support. Bonelli, however, turned in a nice game at home, and, together with Welsh, got two hits.

PHOENIX TRAVEL TO BERKELEY TO PLAY CALIFORNIA NINE

Second Conference Game to Be Played Tomorrow; Face Stanford March 1st

With a determination to avenge the stinging defeat handed the Moragan nine last Wednesday at Stanford, Coach Lou Guisto and his men will "shoot the works" against California tomorrow and Stanford next Wednesday.

The Phoenix men clash with the California tossers tomorrow at 2:30 on the Bear campus; and considering the success of the rival team in preseason games, the Golden Bears must have a team that promises to make a strong bid for the conference title, as they have knocked over some teams made up of major leaguers, and beat out Santa Clara in a hard fought contest by a score of 3-2.

California's probable lineup will consist of Danny Johnson, a long distance hitter, behind the plate receiving the slants of either Bob Saunders or Zeke Keough; Captain George Wolfman will guard the initial sack; Al Klien will cover the keystone sack aided by shortstop Billy Halliver, and Del Thompson will take care of the hot corner.

The outfield will be made up of Maury Sparling, Cecil Kyle, and Milt McIntyre, all of whom are experienced and strong hitters.

And the Stanford game, which is to be played on the Phoenix field next Wednesday. It is predicted that the game will offer some contrasting results from the last fracas.

FROSH GAMES

The Gael yearlings will cross bats with the Sacred Heart nine here Saturday; and meet the California frosh Wednesday at Berkeley. According to past games, the first year men should offer some interesting baseball.

Ramblers Change Captaincy System

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 23.—A new football captain will be appointed for each Notre Dame game by Coach Hartley Anderson in the future, instead of a captain elected for the season, according to an announcement by the athletic board of control.

KENEALY SEALS WIN OUT IN 5-1 VICTORY OVER ST. MARY'S

Playing a determined brand of baseball, the Kenealy Seals batted out a 5-1 victory over the Phoenix last Saturday, on Guisto field. The Seals gathered eight hits of the combined offerings of Jim Flynn and Mickey McKay while the varsity pounded out seven bingles off Chelini and Olsen.

Jerry Donovan, first sacker for the Seals, hit a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. The Phoenix drew first blood when they scored in the second canto, George Wilson singled, Jim Kane flew out infield, Joe Boyd singled to put Wilson on third and Hugh Sill drove him home on a fielder's choice that retired Boyd.

The Seals tied it up in the fourth when Montague, Seal third sacker, singled, stole second, and came all the way home on two successive overthrows by the Phoenix center and centerfielder.

Three more Seal runs crossed the platter in the sixth on as many bingles. The final run of the day came in the ninth with the aid of two hits. The Phoenix got two men on the bags in their half of the ninth but were unable to push over a run.

Golfers to Meet Bears Tomorrow

Local Mashie Welders Prepared for Hard Match

Saint Mary's and California golfers will match niblicks at the Orinda Country Club tomorrow morning, in their first meeting.

The Gael team, consisting mainly of "Slim" Drier, Capt. Pete Markoitch, Harry Minton, Jack O'Mara, Gus Lowell and Dick Bill have only played one intercollegiate match, being defeated in close match by Santa Clara with a score of 5-4.

The California mashie wielders also haev gone down to defeat in their only match against Merced Country Club. Captain Bob Marskey, Jackson Deane, Glen Kageberr, Bill Honig, Charles Wilson and Ted Thompson will constitute the Bear golf roster.

Last Tuesday, O'Mara and Minton and Wilson partook in a friendly round of golf at the Orinda Club.

California is preparing for a match with Stanford next week and elimination contests took place between the varsity and the frosh to determine who would face the Indians.

Frosh Basketball Record Impressive

McNally Lauds Yearling in Last Speech of Season

"You are the best freshmen basketball team this school has ever had." That is what Coach Vince McNally told his frosh at the completion of the season, and a small squad of nine men was deeply touched, for this praise meant much, coming from one who wisely restricts undue compliments.

37 Per Game

Winning 18 games and losing 3, the Gaelets ran up the imposing total of 775 points against a total for their opponents of 491. Every major game, including those with Santa Clara, San Francisco University, Stanford and California, was won by the Moraga babes. In addition they defeated Marin Jaysees, the leading team in the local junior college race.

Barnes Is Aid

Since the advent of Paul Barnes, sensational forward, who joined the team in the middle of January(the young Gaels lost but one start.

Three of the first five men on the team are lanky six-footers, a fact which is cheering to the heart of Vince McNally, Saint Mary's coach. McNally sees a much better future in store for Gael basketball with the addition of the 1933 freshmen to the squad. In either Rockwell or Barnes, he feels that he has his most glaring need—a scoring threat to pair off at forward with the varsity ace, Billy Meade.

Bill Rockwell, lanky Auburn lad, led the Gaelets in scoring for the season with 217 digits. Carl Spirz, former all-city man from Galileo High, followed him with 149 and, in addition, played the most time of any man on the squad.

Minor League Court Squads Disband

Saint Mary's minor basketball, together with the varsity and the freshmen, have terminated their season. The 145's, whose last game was with the Sagus Athletic Club of Oakland, the Moraga Wolves, upon whose rolls are many former Gael basketeers, the Outlaws, A.P.G.U. and Athletic Office casaba squads have called it a season and disbanded.

During the regular season there are a score of small basketball teams that play on the campus, receive little or no publicity, and faded into oblivion.

CALIFORNIA WINS

The California nine beat Santa Clara, 3-2, in the Washington's birthday game at Berkeley. The game was a nonconference tilt.

Tennis Team Play San Mateo Net Squad

After receiving a defeat at the hands of the Golden Bears last week, the varsity netmen will try to redeem their defeat by taking the tentative match with San Mateo this afternoon. Reputed to have one of the strongest tennis squads in years, the San Mateo team will offer strong competition and the Gaels will have to be going strong to snatch the victory from them.

The University of San Francisco will encounter the varsity team here on March 2 and 30. The Gaels will journey across the bay to play the return match on the San Francisco Don's courts.

The Don's, coached by Joe Storrs, are considered to be in great form, with Jack Lang, Jerry Samuels, George Harle-Capt., Morel Kalisky, Jack Guilbert, and Henry Gillmette holding positions.

Following is the tentative schedule:
March 2—U.S.F., here.
March 7—U.S.C., here.

March 30—U.S.F., there.
February 25—San Mateo, here.

WORST DEFEAT IN HISTORY

When Stanford defeated Saint Mary's 19-0 in a baseball game Wednesday, the baseball nine suffered the worst defeat in the history of that sport at Saint Mary's.

Sports Shorts

Everett Pendleton, end prospect for the 1933 Gael varsity, received a dislocated shoulder during scrimmage this week. Just how long the injury will keep the Gael gridder from participating is unknown.

Some Phoenix followers are of the opinion that George Wilson, left fielder, is a much better baseball player than gridder. This impression might be caused by the fact that Wilson seems to have his heart in the national pastime, playing with greater skill than in football. On more than one occasion, Wilson has made some "impossible" catches in the outfield. His uncanny speed gives him ample time to get under the ball, oftentimes zigzagging down the field to spear the agate.

Bill Meade, sophomore forward of the varsity basketball squad, finished the season as high scorer for the team with 169 points to his credit in 22 games. Fred Caviglia was second with 94 points.

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strung to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before

—the cigarette that's Milder
—the cigarette that Tastes Better

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!

Dean Swift Satirized British Government In Many Writings

By John Kiernan

White-washing historical characters is bad enough, but to knowingly misrepresent characters either by prejudice or inexcusable ignorance is unpardonable. Dean Swift has long been the victim of such treatment. This false tendency to misrepresent Swift may be due in part to the universality of his poignant satire "Gullivers' Travels" which has overshadowed his voluminous satires against the English government. By a strange paradox "Gullivers' Travels," the most unfavorable estimate of mankind, is today the most popular juvenile classic.

Instead of unhesitatingly branding Swift as a vicious misanthrope, it might be well to consider his humane efforts on behalf of the Irish people. Swift, by the mere fact that he was born in Ireland, had always antipathic towards the British government, but it was not until he was well situated as the Dean of St. Patricks Cathedral that he used his mighty pen effectively as a weapon for the Irish cause. At this particular time Ireland's progress was retarded by laws which put the Irish people in a position similar to the Yahoos in "Gullivers' Travels." He wrote to a fellow dean: "There is not an acre of land in Ireland turned to half its adantage, yet it is better improved than the people; and all these evils are effects of English tyranny."

His resentment of the unjust policies of England reached a climax when a statute was past during the reign of William III prohibiting the exportation of all woolen goods from Ireland except to England and Wales. Swift, then immediately wrote "A Proposal for the Universal Use of Irish Manufacture," in which he summoned all the people of Ireland to use only Irish goods, and coined the famous phrase, "Burn everything from England except coal."

Despite the Dean's sincere effort to bring order out of the chaotic conditions, the English government continued to pass ridiculous laws. In 1720 the possibility of a greater injustice by which the British government attempted to force a debased coinage of 1,000,000 pounds on the Irish people prompted Swift to defeat the issue.

The English government claimed that there was a deficiency of copper coinage in Ireland and a grant was given to William Wood, who Swift referred to as an "ironmonger," to supply the need. When Swift saw that the British government intended to enforce this coinage, despite the universal objection, he wrote his "Drapier Letters." In the first letter addressed to the tradesmen and common people of Ireland he explains how a farmer whose rent amounts to 100 pounds a half year in Wood's money would amount to 6000 pounds in weight and require three horses to carry the load. Or if a man went on a pleasure trip he would have to carry sacks of money as a farmer would carry sacks of wheat to the market. In the fourth letter, written to the whole people of Ireland, we find a passage similar to our own "Declaration of Independence," he writes: . . . "by the laws of God, of nature, of nation, and of your country, you are, and ought to be as free a people as your brethern in England."

As a result of these "Drapier Letters" the English government withdrew their plan of coinage, fearing it might cause a civil war. Because of these letters Swift has gained for himself a place of everlasting respect among the Irish people. A reward of 300 pounds was offered for information about the author of the "Drapier Letters," and although it was a known fact in Dublin that Swift was the author, no one attempted to collect the reward.

Swift's services did not stop with the "Drapier Letters." A few years later he wrote his celebrated satire, "A Modest Proposal for Preventing the Children of Ireland from Being a Burden to Their Parents or Country and for Making Them a Benefical to the Public." In an ironic manner Swift points out that under the present system the children of the poor in Ireland will either grow up to be robbers or soldiers of fortune, so it might be well to sell the new born babes of the Irish for food. Many shallow-minded Englishmen, who could not fathom the veiled irony took great exception to this proposal and labled Swift an inhuman monster.

Many estimates of unequal merit have been written about Swift, but I believe the best and most concise may be found in a passage from his own poem "On the Death of the Dean":

"Perhaps I may allow the dean
Had too much satire in his vein,
And seem'd determined not to starve it,
Because no age could more deserve it.
Yet malice never was his aim;
He lash'd the vice but spared the name;
No individual could resent,
Where thousands equally were meant;
His satire points at no defect
But what all mortals may correct;
For he abhorr'd that senseless tribe
Who call it humor when they gibe:
He spared a hump or crooked nose,
Whose owners set not up for beaux.
True genuine dullness moved his pity,
Unless it offer'd to be witty."

College to Present "Catherine Valiant"

A three-act play, "Catherine the Valiant," will be presented by "The Masquers," dramatic organization of the College of the Holy Names, on Monday evening, February 27, in the College auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

A former play of the author, Father Urban Nagle, O.P., won the contest held by the Drama League of America a few years ago. This play deals with the struggle of Catherine of Siena against the vices of the fourteenth century interwoven with a touching love story.

Tickets for the play are fifty cents, obtainable at the door.

Having taken over the debating situation, in which a large number of the members of the club are taking an active interest, the A.P.G.U. has arranged an extensive debating schedule with the various representative teams of California.

Last semester this society also sponsored a recital in the lounge, in which prominent musicians of the Bay area appeared. The president of the A.P.G.U. society this year is Carroll Coughlan, the moderator is Mr. Soule. Thomas Twomey, member of the organization, is debate manager.

JUNIORS STAGE SUCCESSFUL PROM

For the first time in three years the present Junior class put on a dance that was a huge success both socially and financially. With the exception of the entertainers, everything was run off to perfection and the general consensus of opinion was to the effect that Bunny Burson's dance music made up for anything lacking in that department.

At the termination of the dance a good word was put in by the management of the Fairmont who stated that it was one of the most orderly college dance affairs that he had witnessed in years. More than one hundred and fifty couples were present to enjoy the evening's dance program in the Terrace ballroom and also the plunge which was opened for the dancers' conveniece at 10 p.m.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION COURSES

Much comment was aroused during the past week following on an interview with Doctor E. R. Guinan in which the latter advocated physical education courses for students, citing the fact that many students altogether neglect the proper development of the body because of laziness and other factors.

The contention is not groundless, and if we gaze about us first hand evidence in bulging waistlines and wide hips gives ample support to the doctor's contention. On the other hand, some students are direct opposites and could well profit by exercise and physical development which they neglect.

However, it seems that physical education courses, worthy as they may be, will never obtain a place in the college curriculum and here is where intramural sports come in as a substitute for physical education courses.

The student body has sponsored an intensive intramural sports program that is still operating. The thing for every student to do is to represent his class in such competition and in this fashion the development of the mind will be accompanied by a corresponding development of the body.

SOMETHING REAL AND VITAL TO OFFER

The intimation that the Moraga Quarterly may be forced to suspend publication because of wretched student and alumni support should give us a pause.

In this publication, Saint Mary's College has a scholarly and distinguished organ that has won its way to the front rank of its type strictly on its own merits.

For Moraga Quarterly to be passed up by the students is a direct affront to the eminently capable writers who make this publication possible. It is also an affront to the College and its ideals.

The Quarterly has something real and vital to offer and offers it in a dignified and characteristically scholarly fashion. Students should feel ashamed of their support of it in the past, and should resolve to purchase and read the magazine when it is issued early in March.

PAY AS YOU ENTER

In a recent article reappearing in The New Outlook entitled "Machine Age Education," the author commented upon the fact that the college of today is a "pay as you enter" proposition. Young men seeking an education were held out as business-like in choosing the courses they took, accepting those which suited their chosen livelihood with the air of a purchaser and taking the required "cultural" subjects only when there was nothing else for them to do. In fact, the writer pictured college men expecting what they paid for and rejecting any other benefits the college gratuitously offered them.

Although such a condition is not universal in American colleges it is, nevertheless, widespread. Students who take the courses that come in their respective fields and have no interest in general cultural courses are increasing in number. It is a common case to find a college man who will ardently pursue all subjects in his narrow field and manifest but little interest in any other courses which the college prescribes as a general rounding and broadening of interest.

There is no intent to discourage specialization in one's field, but it is another thing altogether to specialize to the exclusion of everything else. Certain general courses give the student background, without which an open perspective on life is impossible. The aim of a college education should not be merely to train intensively in one field of endeavor but to do that, and in addition, give the student an insight into his intellectual heritage.

Academic celebrations and dramatic presentations are particularly conspicuous by their absence this spring.

Freshmen debaters are to be congratulated on their splendid showing to date. When they defeated the Pacific Frosh, they defeated the outstanding yearling squad in the state.

Practice For Debaters

ABSENT MINDED PROFESSOR

A professor at North Western University claims that it is impossible for him to remember the names of his students. Whenever notebooks are turned in to be graded he insists that they be accompanied by the student's picture so he will know who's woh. What help can a student's picture be when it comes to figuring out grades?

COLUMNIST'S WIT NOT APPRECIATED

This seems to be an off year for campus gossip slingers. Not long ago we pointed out the jam an eastern columnist got himself into, and now we learn that a brother in the profession at the University of Oregon gave a fraternity some unwanted publicity and was rewarded for his efforts by 15 members of the fraternity who administered a paddling and then tossed him into the icy waters of a nearby stream at a very late hour.

RADIO PROVES AID TO STUDENT

A student at Carnegie Tech found that the leisure moments he spends playing around with a short wave set are far from being wasted. He received a problem in calculus which proved to be too much for him. A plea for help was sent out over the air waves. The solution promptly came back, dictated by a student at University of Texas.

FRESHMAN TAKES WISE CRACK PRIZE

In order to encourage his freshman students on to creditable college careers, a professor at Creighton University told them: "You men have now entered into your college career and are the flower of American manhood." One of the students who had been very quiet up to this point suddenly burst forth with, "Yes, blooming idiots."

STUDENTS ENJOY THIS CLASS

Although many professors are preparing drastic measures to see that their lectures are not delivered to the tuneful accompaniment of snores, a professor of psychology at Colgate University is actually ancouraging his pupils to slumber in his class. This novel experiment is being held in order that he might find the most effective pitch for an alarm clock.

"BUY AMERICAN" TO BE STUDIED AT GEORGETOWN

The faculty of the foreign service school of Georgetown University is rather put out because the news of a seminar on "Buy American" to be held the coming semester was pounced on by the Hearst papers at Washington and interpreted in the usual Hearst way. The Georgetown Hoya states:

"Unfortunately the impression given by the afore-mentioned (Hearst) papers seemed to be that the seminar would deal solely with the reasons why the "Buy American" campaign is a cure-all for United States' economic ills . . . Inasmuch as this is a foreign service school, it is very doubtful that the seminar will approve a movement to restrict foreign trade."

CO-ED ATTRACTS ATENTION

Marlene Dietrich started something when she began parading around Hollywood in mannish garb. A Los Angeles J. C. co-ed was greeted with "looks of mingled surprise, interest, and disdain" when she took up the new fad and appeared on the campus in gray slacks with silver buckle and buttons, red turtle-neck sweater, gray cap, and a jacket over her arm. The girl remarked that "The only part I don't like is being hailed 'Yoo-hoo, Marlene!' by very funny students." She shouldn't complain. Just think of the comments a male student would provoke if he wore a dress and a permanent wave to school!

ANOTHER BURDEN FOR THE SMOKER

Sir Walter Raleigh, who is reputed to have been the first white man to smoke the tobacco leaf in America, would turn over in his grave if he knew that the state of California was contemplating another tax levy on the sorely burdened cigarette smoker.

It is now proposed that the state levy a tax of $1.50 on every thousand cigarettes sold in the state. That would be a tax of 3 cents on each package of twenty.

At the present time the cigarette smoker pays a federal tax of 6 cents on every package of cigarettes that he buys, a tax which produces for the government an annual revenue of $500,000,000. It is apparent that the smoker pays enough now and should not be forced to pay more.

Why irritate the cigarette consumer by forcing on his shoulders an unfair share of the burden of taxation?

OUTLOOKS AND INSIGHTS

THE PAULISTS AND SAINT MARY'S

Brother Leo

There is happiness in the thought that no college in the country has contributed so many of her graduates to the Paulist Society as Saint Mary's has done. The first Saint Mary's man to join the Paulists was the late Father Alexander P. Doyle, who developed into national prominence as preacher, organizer and editor. Father Harry I. Stark, now rector of the Paulist church near the camput of the University of California in Los Angeles, is another. So was the late Edward I. Mallon, brother of Brother Gregory and Brother Vellesian, for many years identified with Paulist activities in Chicago and San Francisco. Father James Towey, Father Edward Mullaly, Father Jerome B. Dunnigan, Father Oliver Welsh and the late Father Michael Ferry swell the list of Saint Mary's men who followed in the footsteps of Father Hecker

WHAT THEY DO

The Paulists are especially concerned with making the Catholic philosophy of life intelligible to Americans. They give retreats and missions, specializing in missions to non-Catholics. They have popularized the question box, designed for well-meaning inquirers. They give frequent radio talks on religion. They maintain chaplaincies in a number of colleges and universities—including our own. They were largely responsible for the organization of the Catholic Summer School on Lake Champlain.

It is a Paulist, Father John Burke, who is the executive head of the National Catholic Welfare Council. They have turned out millions of books and pamphlets, many of which are available in the vestibule racks of Catholic churches. On the campus of the Catholic University of America the Paulists conduct the Apostolic Mission House designed for the training of secular priests in the technique of missions to non-Catholics. In Rome they are in charge of Santa Susanna, the "home" church of visiting Americans. They conduct two excellent monthly magazines, The Catholic World and The Missionary. They have produced a series of five minute sermons intended for the inspiration and convenience of priests everywhere.

CURRENT POETRY

Depression or no depression, a good many readers are vitally interested in poetry. The proof? The Anthology published in December by the Moraga Society of Catholic Poets exhausted its edition before the New Year. Demands for it are still coming in. Westward, a magazine of verse, published in San Francisco, has a large and increasing subscription list. At Georgetown University faculty and students publish a poetry magazine called Measure. Then there is The Carillon, a poetry monthly edited by Caroline Giltinan, not to mention a dozen or so verse magazines of national scope and interest.

ART IS LONG

The Daily Californian for February 8 contained an interview with the distinguished musician, Serge Rachmaninoff, wherein the eminent pianist and composer declared: "College students are immature and less responsive than adults in the appreciation of good music. They center too much attention on sports and athletic achievements."

That statement is going to find disfavor with some readers, but even the most adverse of them will admit that not all college students make response to music—or indeed to any of the arts. The truth may be unpleasant but it is worth facing.

The interview discloses Rachmaninoff as a great artist and a great man. There is bigness, for instance, in a statement like this: "I do not think so-called hard times will be harmful because a little suffering is good for an artist, especially at the beginning of his career. Of all the great musicians, Meldelssohn was perhaps the only happy one."

Rachmaninoff does not enjoy his own compositions—an excellent sign. Neither does he believe that an artist is made overnight. He dwells upon the importance of long and arduous training and the sacrifice of many of the comforts and privileges of normal life.
